Parrot Poop Scoop

HELLO from the Vice President's Perch

Our esteemed President asked one of the Club's Vice Presidents to write this issue of From the Perch. Nikki and I were so excited about this newfound responsibility that we flipped a coin (well, actually it was a bar coaster) and Nikki won. So as I started to write this article I kept a few thoughts in mind; there ain't no wrong or right, you don't have to be a lawyer, a thief or a banker, and yes, come Monday everything will be all right.

A lot has happened since the last issue of the Parrot Poop: Jimmy's concert at Camden, the release of License to Chill, the BCPHC night at the Reading Phillies and, of course, the Second Annual Parrot Daze.

Attending the concert and seeing all the Berks County Parrot Heads not partying for a purpose but just PARTYING and having a great time was fantastic. In my humble opinion, this was one of Jimmy's better concerts.

As I look back on July 17th, the Club did party with a major purpose that day. There was no mortal sin, just the spirit of great hearts. The pfun started at Fish Pond West with Jimmy and the Parrots and before you knew it, we were moving onto the live auction. I hope everyone had a chance to take the Legacy Brewery tour that Keith "The Admiral" and Jeff Blatt were giving.

Cheeseburgers, parrot dogs and jambalaya ala Melissa were selling like crazy. Every time I turned around, there were long lines at the "refreshment" table (the bar). We were definitely partying like Bubba does. The evening ended with Captain Quint and the dance floor was overflowing. I'm not positive but I thought I heard someone yell, "take off your clothes and form a conga line".

After hundreds of hours of volunteer time, the Club raised over $13,000 for the Humane Society of Berks County. I want to thank all the Parrot Heads that helped make Parrot Daze 2 such a PFUN and successful event. We have a great Club and our members make it happen.

As I was talking with Karel (Humane Society executive director) and a few board members from the Humane Society, they were speechless when I told them the amount we raised. They said that Parrot Heads really know how to throw a party and raise money.

Well, I know it's five o'clock somewhere and I know I'm ready for someone to pour me something tall and strong, or maybe I'll just guzzle some gin.

Sons of Parrot Heads -Jimmy Buffet From a Teen's Perspective

By: Aaron Carman & Isaac Wenrich – both age 14 and Parrot Head Club Members

We became teammates a year ago while playing fall baseball. Little did we know that we had much more in common. We discovered each other's fondness for Jimmy Buffet when Aaron was looking for someone to use an extra ticket his family had to Jimmy's latest concert. It couldn't be just any friend. It had to be someone who would appreciate Jimmy Buffet. And believe me, few 14 year olds appreciate his music.

My parents suggested I ask my friend and teammate Isaac. It was then that we discovered we both grew up listening to Jimmy Buffet. We had sung along for years with our parents and siblings on our long but separate journeys to Ocean City, MD for our summer vacations.

Now actually being at one of his concerts, the 2004 License To Chill tour, is a great experience. Opening up with Changes in Attitudes, Changes in Latitudes, we knew it was going to be a great performance. And as we suspected, it was, all the way up to his last song, Fins. I would have to say that his concerts are kind of like a costume party, from the coconut bikinis to grass skirts followed by blue hair and on the big screen topless girls! There was plenty of beachball bouncing and booze drinking to liven up everything. He sang his classic songs such as Volcano and Cheeseburger in Paradise to License to Chill and Coast of Carolina.

Unlike my teammate Aaron, this was my first Jimmy Buffet concert. With this being my first I knew I was in for a huge treat. There were so many new things I learned from the lively people that were dressed to impress Mr. Buffett. I had always loved to listen to him on the way down to my wonderful vacations in O.C. Maryland. That is always the main CD my parents and I listen to the whole way down. At our hotel, The Castle in the Sands, there are always musicians that visit who perfect the Jimmy Buffet talent. I knew so much about Jimmy before this concert but after it, I know so much more.

At his concerts you have people that are there just to enjoy the music and dance, then you have people that sing along, then there are people who dress up and act crazy. Anyhow Parrot Heads are the best fans in the world. We can't wait until next year's concert!

BCPHC 1st annual trip to visit all Margaritavilles

- Date: January 13 – 18, 2005
- Location: Negril, Jamaica
- Price: BCPHC member prices range from $899 - $1,350.
- Price includes: Flight out of Phila/BWI/Newark
Transportation to hotel
All food & drink
5 nights/6 days
Children under 5 are free

(Non-member price is $50 more – price includes a free 1-year membership)

First deposit ($150) is due September 30th. Full amount is due November 15th.
Contact Nikki Buchter for more information.

On April 16th, a busload of Parrot Heads embarked on a long, strange trip (yes, it was a longer ride than necessary) to see the Sauce Boss (Bill Wharton) play at Shakey's in Hershey. The Sauce Boss mixes his own hot sauce and gumbo ingredients into a large caldron while playing spicy Florida Blues on his guitar. The audience is invited to help stir the pot and at the end of the show, everybody eats.

This will probably make enough to feed everyone at a large party or tailgate.

THE SAUCE BOSS' GUMBO

2 cups flour
 1 chicken
 1 gallon of chicken stock
 2 large onions
 2 large green peppers
 1/2 cup LIQUID SUMMER HOT SAUCE
 1 pound smoked sausage

2 medium zucchini
 1 pound okra
 1 pound of shrimp
 1 pint of oysters
 1 pound of crawdads

Make a roux: mix 2 cups of flour into 1-1/2 cups hot oil. Cook on high, stirring constantly until brown. Add 1 chicken, cooked and de-boned, 1 gallon of chicken stock, 2 large onions, and 2 large green peppers. Bring to a boil, then simmer down. Add salt to taste and 1/2 cup of . . . (drum roll) BILL WHARTON'S LIQUID SUMMER HOT SAUCE. Slice and add: 1 pound of smoked sausage, 2 medium zucchini, and 1 pound of okra. When the okra is done, bring the gumbo to a rolling boil and add 1 pound of shrimp, 1 pint of oysters, and 1 pound of crawdads. Cook for 3 minutes. Serve over rice and splash with Liquid Summer Hot Sauce.

Jivia is the Parrot Poop column where we feature Jimmy Buffett trivia questions. Answers to these questions – and previous Jivia – can be found on our Web site www.BerksCountyPHC.org.

- In the early 1980's, Buffett did a quick walk-on appearance on this soap opera.
  - As the World Turns
  - Days of Our Lives
  - All My Children
  - Guiding Light
- On the album "One Particular Harbour", there is a photo of Jimmy holding this up to his ear?
  - A coconut
  - A boombox
  - A conch shell
  - A phone
- In the song "It's My Job", what is the occupation of the laborer?
  - Truck driver
  - Street sweeper
  - Street musician
  - Banker

And a new addition to Jivia, thanks to Chuck, fill in the song blanks.

Strange Birds

In the last several issues of The Parrot Poop, we started scooping the poop about our Executive Committee members. Here's what we found out:

President Denny Lorah really wants to be a bartender. V.P. Alan Carman also wants to be a bartender but on a cruise ship. Our other V.P., Nikki Buchter, doesn't really need a job because she's royalty. Treasurer Tina Shenk was told to "get a room" and Secretary Ruthann Gundersen stole food from someone's car at a Buffett concert. (Note to Ruthann – listen to the words from "Great Filling Station Holdup".)

Now that we know a bit more about our executive committee, it's time to find out the migration habits of our committee chairs. We're starting with the chairperson of Stars on the Water/volunteers, Diane Renninger.

Diane was born in Reading, PA.

Spouse or significant other that you want to mention?: I've been seen hanging a lot around Captain Chuck lately!

It's my job: CPA
But I'd prefer my occupation to be: Bartender at Seacrets in OC Maryland or if I were rich, I'd open a center for kids that have no where else to go.

Interests/hobbies (other than listening to JB): Baking, painting, racquetball, and cruising

Where will you go when the Volcano blows?: Any island with palm trees and frozen concoctions

Favorite JB song?: One Particular Harbor, Captain Tony's, and many, many more!

Favorite line from a JB song: "If we couldn't laugh we would all go insane"

How long have you listened to JB?: Let's see - since I can't remember, I guess many years!

How many JB concerts have you been to & are any more memorable than others?: 1 (see answer to "most embarrassing moment" below!)

Have you read any of JB's books and if so, which was your favorite? I've only read one, Tales from Margaritaville, so I guess that's my favorite

If all your Buffett music was lost or stolen, who would you listen to?: Bob Marley

Favorite food: Anything Italian and anything chocolate

What do you like on your cheeseburger in paradise?: lettuce, tomato, onions and mustard (no Heinz 57)

Favorite frozen (or unfrozen) concoction: 7 & 7, rum and coke, beer, margaritas...I need more space for this question!

Most embarrassing moment: Admitting to the Buffett club that I've only been to one JB concert!

How did you get involved in the BCPHC?: Our VP Alan Carman

What one thing would you like to do in life that you haven't already done?: Go to Key West

Any insights or inspirations to pass on?: I keep this on my computer at work: You create your stress. This is because the only thing in the world that you really have total control over is how you choose to react to circumstances that happen in your world. So, you choose your stressed reaction. "Choose" to be positive!

Where the heck is Margaritaville?: Margaritaville is where you can spend all day enjoying life with those you care about most.

The Club's first Environmental event took place on Sunday, April 18, when we cleaned up our official Berks County Parrot Head Club section of highway (the new route 222 between the Berkshire Mall and the new Lowe's).

We had a great turnout - more than 30 volunteers showed up! The whole clean up only took about 90 minutes. Afterward, we headed back to ChiChi's to cool off with some cocktails and award the prize for "Most Unusual Item". The winner was Megan Sauer who picked up a deer's jawbone - teeth still attached!

The next Environmental Clean Up is scheduled for October 17. Come join us and get your own bright orange vest!

PARROT HEADS GO "OVERBOARD" AT SEA

By: Matt Vardjan

The Mako Mania Tournament at Bahia Marina in Ocean City, MD was held on June 6, 7, and 8, 2004. Anglers Jeff Blatt, Ted Kohl, Denny Lorah and Matt Vardjan fished the opening day to try their luck at catching the winning mako.

With the sun just rising through spotty clouds at 5:00 a.m., the boat cast off with all men aboard prepared for the two-hour ride to the "Jack" spot. The seas were predicted to be one to three feet inshore, building to three to five later during the day. Upon arriving at our destination, the engines were cut, chum buckets were tossed over the sides, and lines were thrown out to drift in the lengthening slick.

We waited for one hour before a bluefish was boated by Jeff. Shortly after, the first heavy hit of the day, a 130 pound brown dusky shark, was caught by Ted and then released. Jeff then caught a second bluefish. The second heavy hit, the first mako of the day, was handed off to me. After a short fight, a 150 pound shark was cranked to the back of the boat. While attempting to tail-rope our first keeper, the shark gave one violent slap of its tail, snapped the line, and was gone! The four Parrot Heads were silent. Fins were neither to the left nor the right.

The wind blew harder and hours passed. We all feared that the previous shark might have been the only mako of the day. "Hey guys," Denny said, "everything happens for a reason."

A few more hours passed and one of the chum buckets came loose from the boat so Captain Dusty Lorah said to bring in the lines and he'd retrieve it. As the lines were being cranked in, Ted shouted, "Hey, there's something on this line!" He set the strike and pulled to set the hook. He handed the rod off to Denny. All other lines were brought in this time, and all anglers determined that if this shark was a mako, it would be boated. Denny cranked the shark right to the boat. Jeff yelled, "MAKO!" And with that, the shark saw the boat and took off in the opposite direction. The fight was on! The shark was brought back to the boat two more times with the same result.

After some jumps by the shark, it was brought in, gaffed, and tail-roped. It took all four men to finally secure the mako with three ropes. This shark was larger than the first mako - maybe 185 pounds, maybe 200. It just might win the tournament. All agreed that even if this one wasn't the winner, it would taste good for supper!

We thought it'd be good to start fishing our way toward shore. This was the first charter trip booked with Club member, Dusty Lorah, captain of the Overboard, a 32-foot Topaz, which now bares its first battle scars on the starboard side from the shark and gaffs.

According to tournament rules, 3:00 p.m. was quitting time. So the lines were cranked in and the mako brought into the boat for the trip back to the scale to see if the weight estimates of the shark were accurate.

On the approach to the Bahia Marina, which is located at the back of Fish Tails, the dock was filled with people watching the sharks being weighed in. After fighting our way to the scale, the shark was hung. As photos were snapped, the scale numbers read 172.4 pounds. It was the 3rd place mako of the day. But the excitement was short lived. Five minutes later, our shark was knocked down to 5th place.

We all agreed that it would still taste good for supper that night.

2nd Annual Summer Parrot Daze

Saturday July 17th at Fish Pond West

Tickets $15/$20 at gate - www.berkscountyPHC.org

Featuring JIMMY & THE PARROTS - CAPTAIN QUINT

For the 2nd year, our major sponsor, Land Displays, donated a billboard to promote Parrot Daze and our Club.

Parrot Daze Festival Raises Financial Feathers

The location was Fish Pond West versus Key West but let's not be latitudinally precise as we had parrots, cheeseburgers and a Berks County paradise of a day. "What?" you say. The BCPHC held its second annual Summer Parrot Daze on July 17, 2004 at the Fish Pond West. And we sure raised some pfinancial pfeathers—specifically, $13,200 for the Berks County Humane Society.

The proceeds raised by the event will help the Humane Society in its mission to help the 5,000 plus animals it houses each year to find happy permanent homes. Founded in 1900, the Humane Society of Berks County is the oldest and largest animal welfare organization in the county.

Over 400 Parrot Heads relished in Cheeseburgers of Fish Pond West Paradise with cold draft beers, boat (pond) drinks and basked in heavenly fall-like weather. And yes, these parrots frolicked to the Caribbean sounds of Captain Quint and Jimmy and The Parrots – Buffett-cover bands from Washington, DC.

It was with great glee that our Club met and exceeded the Chapter's mission to party with a purpose. That is "to promote friendship and organize social activities for people who share an affection for the tropical spirit of Jimmy Buffett AND a desire to contribute to the betterment of the community through a variety of volunteer efforts."

This volunteer effort translated into hundreds of hours of collective effort as well as contributions of thousands of dollars from individual and local businesses in silent (OK, less loud) and live auctions. Notable items contributed and auctioned were a Beach Week in the Keys, a Cannondale bicycle, a tiki bar and an assortment of tropical art, apparel and frills.

Karel Minor, Executive Director of the Humane Society of Berks County, thanked the crowd and Parrot Head Club for their generosity and support. "This money will make a huge impact on our organization. You sure know how to throw a fun fundraiser!" said Minor.

Buffett Night at the Reading Phillies.

The Reading Phillies held a Jimmy Buffett night on June 21st. The Club sold approximately 100 tickets to the pool pavilion where there was plenty of good picnic food and our favorite beverages. The children, and some adults, enjoyed a refreshing dip in the pool while the game was being played. The big team's Randy Wolf was the starting pitcher, trying to work his way back to the majors after an injury. Those that stuck around were treated to an exciting finish as the R-Phils put up 4 runs in the bottom of the ninth to win 7-6. It was their seventh straight win in a game that was attended by 8,205 fans.

In 25 Words or Less

Committee Updates:

We need More Junior Mints (sponsorship committee) – chairperson Norm Heilenman

The Sponsorship Committee thanks all the sponsors and advertisers who helped to make the 2004 Summer Parrot Daze Event a success. A new feature to our sponsorship and advertising program this year—the PROGRAM BOOK was distributed to members at the July Membership Meeting and to everyone who attended Summer Parrot Daze on July 17. Members are encouraged to support the many sponsors and advertisers who support our efforts.

Pfeeding Pfrenzy (merchandise committee) – chairperson Tina Shenk

Lots of merchandise sold at "Parrot Daze". A retail success! BCPHC tees, visors and golf shirts are available in lots of colors. Get more involved in the Club. Join the merchandise committee!

Party with a Purpose (events committee) – chairperson Jodi Blatt

Now that the Club's big event, Parrot Daze, is over and was a big success, we are trying to get things in order for the rest of the year. Our golf outing went off on August 27th and we're already planning for next year. Next will be the 2nd Birthday Party, A Pirate Looks at Two! It will be on October 2nd and our own John Hain will be playing, plan on coming. Happy Hours are in the works, so don't forget to check your email or listen at the general meetings for announcements. It would be great to see some new faces!

Stars on the Water (volunteer committee) – chairperson Diane Renninger

Wow! That is the word that sums up my thoughts to the Stars on The Water that volunteered on July 17th to make Parrot Daze a tremendous success! Over 300 volunteer hours that day and an additional estimated 100-200 additional planning hours demonstrated the Club's promise to "party with a purpose". On behalf of all Club members and the Humane Society....Thank you to all chefs, bartenders, food, merchandise and ticket sales people!!

Changes in Attitude (charity committee) – chairperson Mike Mountz

Thanks to everyone for their hard work and contributions to Parrot Daze. We are, after everything is said and done, all about charity. The committee is looking for a charity for the Winter Party and the rest of 2005 events. Please forward any suggestions for our consideration.

If the Phone Doesn't Ring (membership committee) – chairperson Sue Gromis
